BODY OF VILLA HAS BEEN EXHUMED

Mexicans Make the Assertion Unofficially and an Effort Will be Made to Confirm the Identification.

El Paso, Tex., April 17.—Consul Andreas Garcia, Carranza's representative in El Paso, today affirmed the reports that a body believed to be that of Francisco Villa, is being taken to Chihuahua. He issued the following statement:

"Although it has not been officially confirmed, you can be assured that the body of Villa has been found fifty miles south of San Antonio. The place where it was interred was discovered by a Villista colonel whom General Cabazos captured. The corpse is expected to arrive at Chihuahua today. It is being taken there by horses of General Cabazos's brigade commanded by Col. Carranza."

San Antonio is a town of Chihuahua west of Chihuahua City. It was through this district that the American troops subsequently attacked at Parral proceeded in their pursuit of a Villa band of which the long-sought bandit was thought to be in personal command. General Cabazos, the Carranza leader, mentioned in Consul Garcia's statement, was recently defeated by Villistas in the Guerrero district.

Despite the repeated claims of Carranza officials that Villa died of the wound which he recently suffered, the American authorities are inclined to accept the report as a ruse to get the United States troops out of Mexico. Mexican advisers assert that the body was exhumed approximately a week after Villa died of blood poisoning.

The problem of identification will be a difficult one. It does not take long for decomposition to set in in Mexico and this would be hastened if, as the Mexicans say, gangrene had set in. Marion Letcher, the American consul at Chihuahua, has been instructed to view the body now being taken to Chihuahua. He knew Villa well.

If Dr. Rusk of El Paso were alive the task of identifying the alleged body of Villa would be rendered easy. This physician treated Villa many times and could have identified him by his teeth and by the scars on his body.

A Chance for Improvement.

Kingston, N. Y., April 17, 1916. In view of the fact of the resignation of Miss Moore of the Kingston City Hospital, it would seem that the board of managers have the opportunity of making this institution a pleasing and useful element for the care of sick and injured persons with the former red tape qualification reduced to the ordinary principles of humanity. The general rumor having been that existing conditions were attributed to the resigning matron, it would seem that the board now has an opportunity of improvement without encroaching on the rights or authority of the matron.

The fact that a relative meeting with an accident and having fractures necessitating removal to a hospital where proper care and treatment could be obtained and also the fact that the Kingston City Hospital was the nearest and obviously the place where the patient had the right to go, being the only place in Ulster county where an Ulster county patient had the right to expect to enter, led me to have the patient's physician telephone to the Kingston City Hospital, where he was informed that the hospital was full and when I afterwards telephoned, I was informed that they didn't know that the patient who wanted to come in was my mother. Now what more should I expect for my mother than other people in a so-called public institution. The result was that another Ulster county patient had to go to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where the red tape and the fact of being an Ulster county patient did not create any adverse criticism or controversy.

CHARLES D. CLINTON.

White Man Lynched.

Pensacola, Fla., April 17.—Getting the drop on the deputies, a masked mob of twenty men took John Dykes, postmaster of Greenhead, from the Washington county jail at Vernon this morning and shot him to death. Dykes was charged with assassinating S. A. Walker, a turpentine operator and prominent citizen of Washington county. Dykes was the first white man ever lynched in West Florida.

Snow in the Adirondacks.

Plattsburgh, April 17.—Reports from points in the Adirondacks today state that despite the arrival of spring, snow is nearly a foot deep on the level in the woods and ice from 15 inches to 22 inches thick covers the lakes. Although the trout season opened April 1, it will be past May 1 before anglers are able to enjoy the sport. It is one of the latest seasons on record.

Clambake for Delegates.

The delegates to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Convention in Poughkeepsie on June 20, 21, 22, will be given a clambake at Kohl's Park on the afternoon of June 21. A convention hall will be given at Columbus Institute the same evening. Seventeen outside companies have accepted invitations to take part in the parade on June 22.

CARRANZA CANNOT CONTROL HIS ARMY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Carranza's leaders have proved themselves incapable of controlling their own men. This has been definitely shown, it was asserted here today, by the attack on American troops at Parral. While American officers at Fort Sam Houston gave the Carranza officers at Parral the benefit of the doubt and refused to say that the invitation to the United States soldiers under Major Tompkins to enter Parral was a deliberate trap, nevertheless the official report showing that Carranza troops took part in the fighting is evidence that the enlisted men in the de facto government's army could not be controlled.

The fact that forty Mexican soldiers were killed in the attack which cost the lives of two American troopers shows that there was no break in the ranks of the American soldiers when they fought their way out of the town and engaged in a running battle that lasted for fifteen miles. Major "Tommy" Tompkins, hero of the pursuit that sent Villa flying across the border at Columbus, was also the dominant figure in the Parral battle. Though wounded by one of the first volleys fired by the Mexicans he stayed at the head of his men and directed the operations that saved the force from extinction. Not only did Major Tompkins effect his retreat in a brilliant manner by taking advantage of every natural protection, but he also succeeded in taking with him his dead and wounded.

The news of the Parral battle and the fact that the Americans were forced to retreat before the Mexican troops is traveling through Mexico like wild fire today. The Mexican reports, of course, disregard the fact that the Americans were far out-numbered. The news is already having its effect. Reports reached here today that anti-American rioting has broken out at Chihuahua City. Similar news from other points is expected shortly.

In the meantime American army officers are frankly skeptical of the official Mexican reports of Villa's death. If these are part of a plan to get the Americans out of Mexico, however, the United States military leaders will have to "be shown." General Pershing, who has met Villa, will view the body which the Carranzaists claim to be that of the bandit chieftain and if it comes to a showdown Major General Funston will do the same.

"I have seen Villa," said General Funston today, "and I believe I would know his body, even though mutilated, if not too long buried. I do not know his battle scars, but I certainly could not mistake the jagged teeth and the wavy black hair. Villa was also of unusual height for a Mexican, standing six feet odd."

$78.60 For Hospital Victrola.

It would seem that the young ladies who undertook to hold the food sales on Saturday afternoon to raise money to purchase a Victrola for the Tuberculosis Hospital, must have spread abroad their enthusiasm for the sales and gifts of money amounted to $78.60. This splendid sum in addition to the "small fund already started for this purpose, has been taken to the hospital and the Easter gift of the Victrola is now assured. The young ladies who assisted Miss Jessie Oughckree in this worthy enterprise were Miss Mildred Harrison, Miss Myrtle Weber, Miss Katherine Millard, Miss Sarah Lounsbury, Miss Nellie Elmendorf, Miss Margaret Forbes, Miss Margaret Keefe, Miss Emily Miller, Miss Jessie Goodsell, Miss Helen Derranbacher, Miss Louise Snyder and Miss Marion Dick. The young ladies wish to publicly and particularly thank Messrs. Schermerhorn, Carl and Sheppard for the use of their stores for holding the sales, and all who contributed food or money to help in raising the amount received.

"Tides of Commerce."

"Tides of Commerce" is the attractive title of a little volume of verse from the pen of William Carr Sanger, Jr., issued by the Country Life Press. It is the romance of transportation that speaks through this poet whose metrical interpretations of novelty as well as of being very fair verse. Mr. Sanger qualifies for the post of poet laureate for the locomotive in this far from uninteresting collection of his poems.

Humorist Peck Dead.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 17.—Thousands of American boys from coast to coast will mourn when they learn of the death of George W. Peck, author of the incomparable "Peck's Bad Boy," and former governor of Wisconsin. Mr. Peck died late yesterday after a short illness. He was 75.

Public Hearing Tuesday Night.

There will be a public hearing on the proposed charter amendments on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the common council chambers at the city hall preceding the regular meeting of the city fathers. The proposed changes in the charter will be found in an advertisement in another column of The Freeman.

MEN "HIGHER UP" IN BOMB PLOT SOUGHT.

New York, April 17.—With eight of the active workers in the ship bomb plot already under arrest, federal agents and the New York police have begun an investigation which promises to lead to the most far-reaching exposures yet effected of the activities of the German secret service system in this country.

Excepting for one man whom agents of the department of justice are now trailing, the authorities believe they have apprehended all the men actually engaged in the execution of the plot. But the search for bombs on ships leaving this port with cargoes for the allies. The officials are convinced that the men in custody were merely tools in the hands of other men, whose identity is strongly suspected.

Four of the men in custody have admitted under questioning facts seriously implicating Captain Fritz Von Papen, the recalled German military attaché. Captain Boy-Ed, recalled German naval attaché, and Captain Sternberg, a German officer who escaped in female garb from this country to Germany, after disclosure connecting him with the Teutonic secret service system.

MANY ANGLERS BUT FEW FISH

Trout fishermen were out in numbers Sunday in many parts of the Catskills, but no catches of consequence were reported today, this being due it is said to the snow water still in the streams. Some warm weather will be necessary before trout are biting, according to some experts, who found fly fishing anything but productive yesterday. Some fishermen who used bait reported a few trout of fair size but the general opinion is that the recent cold weather will make good fishing come late this season.

THEY SAY.

It may be only a coincidence but the same week that Frank H. Van Houton, Jr., of Beacon, was granted a patent for "a dough dividing" machine, he also used his pretty 18 year old bride, Ruth Parkinson Van Houton, for annulment of their marriage. The bride has since threatened to sue the elder Van Houton for alienation of her husband's affections. The elder Van Houton is president of the Dutchess County Tool Works at Beacon. The pair were married as the result of an automobile elopement.

Seventy-six out of 87 cases of typhoid fever which occurred in a recent outbreak have been traced by the United States Public Health Service to infected milk. Had the first cases been reported to a trained health officer the outbreak could have been stamped out promptly. The Kingston water board has the sanction of the federal authorities in its recent milk and water discussion.

Sylvester R. Shear, superintendent of schools in Poughkeepsie, is the authority for the statement there is more community of spirit, and that there are fewer knockers and more boosters in Poughkeepsie than any city of which he knows.

Hundreds of dollars are hung up in rewards offered by various owners of Hudson Valley summer homes whose places have been burglarized the past few months.

WHY THOSE OPTIONS?

Shandaken Folks More Puzzled Than They Were Before.

Pine Hill, April 15. Editor of Kingston Freeman: Permit me to say through your valued paper, that we taxpayers of Shandaken are very much interested in getting information on the option question that is being crowded on us. It seems to me that if we were foolish enough to accept $1 and let our home, yearly repairs and little accessory incidentals stand, we would surely reveal the sleeping spirit of Rip Van Winkle of old and if as Mr. Strauss says, they do not want our property, why do business men who should work for the town's betterment seek to agitate something that already has shown harmful effect? Is there not some one who understands these things better than we do, who would help us to overcome the optionists and reveal their true reason for this untimely agitation. I feel both grateful and thankful for what The Freeman has already done to open our eyes to the danger, if danger it is, as it seems to be.

Very truly,

ONE OF THE FREEMAN'S Loyal FRIENDS.

THOSE CORSET SALES.

Saleswoman is Certainly Energetic and Entertaining in Method.

Women surely are gullible when a slippery tongued saleswoman or salesman is delivering the talk. Quoting Dr. Frank Johnston as a corset expert is not the only way the saleswoman selling the Kios-fit corset in town is getting purchasers, according to the talk of those who have been victims of her smooth language.

It has been told a representative of The Freeman that upon approaching a certain lady on Wall street, Miss Kink, which is the name of the representative, mentioned the names of several prominent women who she said had purchased corsets from her. Such convincing arguments clinched the deal and the lady paid a deposit of $1.50 for a $5 corset, which was to be sent some time in May from the main office of the company in New York.

The lady called up the women who were quoted as purchasers and found that two had bought but the rest were only considering the purchase. By the quick method of woman to woman talk, the news spread that they were being "stung." The female part of the human race is more sensitive to imposition than man because they take pride in refusing to be ensnared by salespeople. Therefore the last purchaser called up the house where the saleswoman is boarding during her stay in Kingston and asked for another interview with Miss Kios-fit. This was about twenty minutes after the deposit of the $1.50 had been made. Miss K. F. at once went to the house of the lady who was ensnared and with all the smoothness at her disposal asked the reason for her husband had decided against sending money out of town, even for corsets, and that she wanted the money back.

Miss K. F. was very sorry, but she had sent the money with the order to the home office in New York and had no money with her to refund. Although the lady of the house was insistent in her demands, she could not persuade the corset representative to give her over the money. She said that she had heard of the methods which Miss K. F. had in selling the goods.

Miss Kios-fit was astonished to think that anybody questioned her integrity and with perfect calmness called up several of the women by phone to whom she had sold corsets—the same ones with whom the purchaser had been conversing a few minutes before.

At the purchase end of the line everything was fine. Nobody doubted the honesty of the Kios-fit woman, according to the talk of Miss Kink herself. But at the other end of the wire the women were not hesitating to inform Miss K. F. of her methods and answered in the negative all the questions asked by the saleswoman about her own character. The true conversation which was carried on was learned by the purchaser after Miss K. F. had gone.

At this time the husband, who had been listening "behind the wings," entered the scene and demanded the $1.50. Not until he put his hand on the receiver of the phone to call an officer did Madam Kios-fit open her pocketbook and from a tidy roll not lacking in size produce the money.

There is some doubt whether the representative adopted these methods for any reason than that she was extremely eager to make room sales. At any rate it is high time that housewives patronize the many corset exhibitions which are given from time to time in the stores in town and keep the gold from flowing out of our own city.

Reception to Pastor.

Tuesday evening the congregation of the Ponckhockie Union Church will tender their pastor, the Rev. F. W. Moot, and his wife, a reception at the church. The members of the community are invited to attend.

STATE PROVIDES FOR FARM BUREAUS

Governor Whitman Approves Appropriation For Support of Farm Bureaus and Farmers' Institutes.

Appropriations, the total of which is more than $60,000 are provided for the maintenance of Farmers' Institutes and Farm Bureaus. Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson has announced that the proposed Farmers' Institute and Farm Bureau appropriations are approved by Governor Charles S. Whitman, who is appreciative of the work which the bureaus do for the farming interests. For the Farmers' Institutes approximately $38,000 is to be provided for in the appropriation bill and for Farm Bureaus a total approximately $25,250. The Farmers' Institutes consist of lectures by authorities on various subjects of vital interest to agriculture. The attendance at these institutes shows their value and the extent to which they are appreciated. The Bureau also issues bulletins containing much information valuable to the farmer.

To the support of each of the 36 Farm Bureaus in the state $600 is provided from state funds. The federal government and the county authorities each provide the same amount. The agents in these bureaus in the various counties, demonstrate improved farm methods and also furnish valuable information on agriculture.

"Governor Whitman is familiar with the functions performed by these bureaus," said Commissioner Wilson, "and he realizes their value to agriculture. It was with his strong approval that the amount for each bureau was provided for in the appropriation bill."

IN SPECIAL TERM.

Cases Before Justice Hasbrouck in This City on Saturday.

A Sullivan county creamery case occupied a great deal of the time of Judge Hasbrouck in special term of Saturday and was argued at great length by attorneys for both parties. The case was first tried before Justice A. V. S. Cochrane in Sullivan county supreme court and later Justice Cochrane was elevated to the court of appeals. By stipulation the evidence taken before Judge Cochrane was submitted to Judge Hasbrouck on Saturday. Louis Lapide, plaintiff, bought an interest in a creamery company owned by Abram and Max Canno and at the time of sale there were judgments against the company which the plaintiff claims defendant agreed to pay. At the present time the judgments have not been paid. The complaint is based on breach of contract and fraud. Both parties were represented by New York lawyers.

An order was granted allowing the plaintiff to amend the complaint in the action of the Friedman Company against Mike Chotic, Brinnier and Percy W. Decker represented defendant.

A final order of confirmation was granted in partition proceedings of Marietta B. Taber against Caroline Brewster and others. The reference was represented by Supervisor C. Meach Woolsey of Mariborough.

VAN AKEN BACK IN COUNTY JAIL

Edwin Van Aken, who was convicted by an Ulster county jury of murdering his wife at their home in Port Ewen in October, 1914, and was sentenced to be electrocuted in Sing Sing prison, was on Saturday afternoon brought from Sing Sing prison to the county jail, where he will remain until a new trial is held. Mr. Van Aken's case was carried to the court of appeals where the verdict was reversed and a new trial granted by that court. On Friday afternoon Judge Jenkins granted an order for his removal from Sing Sing to the county jail and with Sheriff Shults and Mr. Van Aken's attorney, Corporation Counsel Brinnier, the trip was made on Saturday afternoon by automobile.

The trip from Sing Sing to Kingston was uneventful and notwithstanding the stories which are noised about the streets Mr. Van Aken is in excellent health and spirits. The journey was made to this city on the west shore of the Hudson because of better road conditions and the sheriff and his party arrived in this city about five o'clock.

During the trip Van Aken said little but apparently was in the best of spirits. When the trial will be held depends upon what disposition Mr. Brinnier and District Attorney Traver make of the case. It may be at the first term of court in May or it may not be held until later. The time of the trial has not yet been decided upon and Van Aken will remain in the county jail until such time as he is tried.

The case is attracting a great deal of attention and an excellent opportunity is given the Busy Street Liar to decide all matters. One of the stories told by the B. S. L. on Saturday afternoon after Mr. Van Aken had been placed in the jail was that he had completely lost his mind during his confinement in the death house at Sing Sing, but judging from the manner in which Van Aken conducted himself during the trip from the prison to Kingston the Busy Street Liar has little to base his story upon.

P. A. CANFIELD BUYS THE BUNKER

Steam Yacht Elihu Bunker Sold at Public Auction Brings $1,800—

Yacht Gardner Started Today on Glasco Route—Other Notes.

Saturday afternoon in order to settle the estate of the late Captain Blodgett the steam yacht Elihu Bunker was sold at public auction at the Mansion House by Judge Henry E. McKensie of Port Ewen as auctioneer. The boat was sold to Palmer A. Canfield of the Canfield Supply Company, whose bid was $1,800. Mr. Canfield said today when asked regarding what he intended doing with the boat that he was as yet undecided.

The yacht in past years plied between Rondout and Glasco and Poughkeepsie and was valued at from $4,000 to $5,000. The yearly revenue was said to average from $4,000 to $4,500.

Today the steam yacht Gardner was put in commission and started running on the Glasco route. Captain Frank W. Roosa was at the helm.

The Cornell Steamboat Company expects to put the tug Arnold into commission on Tuesday for work at the upper end of the river.

General manager of the Hudson River Day Line, was in this city looking over the steamers Mary Powell and Albany. The Towell is tied up at the Cornell shops having repairs made, while the Albany is tied up at the Sundown dock across the creek.

DOROTHY ARNOLD MYSTERY CLEARED

By Telegram to The Freeman. Providence, R. I., April 17.—The mystery of the disappearance of Dorothy Arnold, the New York heiress, may be solved by investigations started by the police today, following the confession of an inmate of a Rhode Island penal institution.

While the police were searching for the girl's body, the names of the convict and his accomplices were withheld.

His knowledge of the mystery, however, commenced only after the death of the girl. He declares he does not know what the "job" was. He says he was paid $250 for his part in disposing of the dead body.

He said: "The job was framed in a Seventh Avenue saloon in New York. A rich man took another fellow and myself to New Rochelle late one night. We were told to protect the gentleman in case of trouble. I did not know what the job was about but was paid $250 for my part."

"We reached a house just outside of New Rochelle and a man brought a woman out in his arms. We were driven through New York to West Point, where the unconscious woman was carried into the house and placed on a couch."

"The next night the limousine called for me at the New York saloon and we went to the house outside West Point. The same gentleman carried the woman wrapped in a sheet to the cellar where a grave was dug and she was buried."

"The girl was Dorothy Arnold. I had nothing to do with the job but he prepared to protect the gentleman in case of trouble."

"I sat alongside the woman during the ride in the limousine and can testify that in every detail. I dared I could name the man who was hired with me. My life would be worth little when the gang which hangs around the Seventh Avenue saloon knows I told of my part in the job."

The convict has recently acquired religion, it is said, and made the confession in order to ease his conscience.

The prisoner, who has served six months of a two year sentence, described jewelry which he claimed to have seen on the girl's body, and declared he was positive she was Dorothy Arnold. He also described in detail the appearance of the doctor, together with a young man who hired the gunman. He also declared that he was able to point out the location of both houses.

The prisoner was born and brought up in New York city, and has served terms in Elmira, Sing Sing and Auburn. About the time he became religious he confided to another inmate that his conscience bothered him, and he wished to get a load off his mind. The other inmate urged him to confess and he did so.

Dorothy Arnold suddenly disappeared nearly six years ago. Her father, Francis R. Arnold, a wealthy importer of perfumes, maintained a still hunt for six months and then called in publicity to help.

She was last seen, so far as is known to the police or other investigators, at Fifth Avenue and Thirtieth Street on Dec. 12, 1910.

MISS MOORE RESIGNS AS SUPERINTENDENT

Miss Mary A. C. Moore, for the past eighteen years superintendent of the Kingston City Hospital, has resigned her position. Her resignations was due to a difference of opinion with a member of the surgical staff over a question of operating room rules. Miss Dykes is now in charge of the hospital as acting superintendent.

The official board will hold a meeting on Tuesday at which time it is expected that a superintendent will be appointed.

What Miss Moore's plans for the future are is not known.

MORE GOOD THINGS.

A delicious sandwich to serve with tea is this: Mix a fourth of a cupful of finely chopped Canton ginger with a third of a cupful of pecan meats.

Add two tablespoonfuls of finely cut candied orange peel, one tablespoonful of the ginger sirup, one tablespoonful of vinegar and a few grains of salt. Spread between thin, unsweetened crackers. Arrange on a plate covered with a lace paper dolly.

Orange Cakes.—Roll out pie paste a fourth of an inch thick and cut with any fancy cookie cutter. Arrange on a buttered sheet and bake in a hot oven until brown, split and fill them with orange marmalade, spread with orange frosting and sprinkle with chopped candied orange peel around the edges. To make the orange frosting add orange juice and orange rind for the flavor. Add confectioners' sugar until the mixture is of the right consistency.

Cherry Fritters.—Mix a fourth of a cupful of cornstarch, one fourth of a cupful of flour, one-half cupful of sugar and a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Add one-fourth of a cupful of cold milk and the yolks of three eggs, slightly beaten. Add the mixture gradually to two cupfuls of scalded milk, and cook in a double boiler fifteen minutes, stirring constantly until the mixture is well cooked. Add one-half cupful of cherries cut in halves and pour into a shallow pan to cool. Turn out on a board, cut in squares, dip in flour, egg crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Marschino Sauce.—Mix thoroughly one cupful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, add gradually while stirring constantly two-thirds of a cupful of boiling water. Bring to the boiling point and let simmer five minutes; then add one-fourth of a cupful of the cherry sirup and a tablespoonful of butter bit by bit.

Banana Nut Salad.—Allow a tablespoonful of chopped nut meats and one banana for each person. Cut one side of the banana skin, lift it out and dip it in salad dressing, then roll in nuts, replace in the skin and arrange on a lettuce leaf on a plate.

Easter

Easter is the time of year, above all others, for putting off the old and putting on the new. It's in the atmosphere. You'll need a new pair of shoes. Try Ralston Shoes—$4 to $6. They will add immeasurably to the "well-roomed" feeling so necessary in observing the day. They put the finishing touch to your wardrobe.

Let us show you some of the new styles which we have just received. They are the last word in attractive Spring modes—novel, but well within the confines of good taste. In fact, they are good taste itself.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Friday evening Mrs. William Davis of No. 60 Second avenue tendered her sister, Miss Louise Krueger, a linen shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Arthur Fatum. About fifty guests were present and a most delightful evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Among those who are answering the call of the speckled beauties are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stahel and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Saxy of New York, who are stopping at the Mansion House for a few days after having motored from New York in the record time of two hours and 45 minutes. Mr. Stahel was the winner of the Paris motor car race in 1903 and 1904. In 1907 he met with an accident, since which time he has given up fast driving. Mrs. Stahel is the mistress of one of the finest estates on Long Island at Kew Gardens and is often seen in New York driving her husband's racing car. Mrs. Saxy is late of the Paris Opera Company and, on account of the war, she and Mr. Saxy are making their home in New York. Today the visitors are fishing in trout streams near Lackawack. Tonight an informal dance will be given at the Mansion House in honor of these guests.

On Friday evening, April 14, a surprise party was tendered Miss Jessie Ruger of 66 Spruce street in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in playing a variety of games and in dancing, while a number of selections were rendered on the piano by the Misses Helen Brodhead, Amy Ruger and Lillian Van Steenberg. The hostess received a number of pretty gifts. At about 11 o'clock the guests were ushered into the dining room, where they partook of dainty refreshments. The table was decorated with cut flowers as was various parts of the house. Those present were the Misses Carrie Herrmann, Vera Hendrickson, Elsie Lebert, Nora McGrath, Mildred Messinger, Helen Brodhead, Mildred Raiche, Catherine Rosa, Jessie Ruger, Amy Ruger, Florence Susabaugh, Lillian Van Steenberg and the Messrs. Alfred Drauz, Dewey Fallon, Lynn Grant, Harold Johnston, Stanley Lebert, Clarence Rhymer, Benjamin Rhymer, William Ruger, Charles Ruger, Louis Shubert, Henry Schantz, Ernest Stingle, Carl Thiel. Among the many others present were: Mrs. Ruger, Mrs. B. Van Steenberg, Mr. and Mrs. William Lake, son Joe and daughter, Belores of South Rondout, also Mr. Lake's father, Charlotte Ruger and Addie Rhymer. The guests departed for their homes in the wee small hours of the morning voting their hostess a royal entertainer and wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Hull-Davis.

Miss Ethel Davis and Conrad Hull were married at the parsonage of the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church Friday evening by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Dadds. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Green.

Circles of Mercy.

Owing to the greater popularity of the Thursday morning meetings for the workers who are helping in the making of surgical dressings under the supervision of the Circles of Mercy, the Friday afternoon meetings will be discontinued from now on, and all persons who can assist on Thursday mornings are urged to do so. All members of the Circles of Mercy are especially urged to be at the meeting on Thursday morning at the Y. M. C. A., as there will be some business of importance to be considered.

Birthday Party.

A very pretty pink and blue ribbon birthday party was given to Miss Delsie Higgins, 129 Hunter street, April 15. The afternoon was spent playing games. Miss Marie Lang furnished the music for the little ones, while Miss Florence Higgins sang some very pretty solos for them, after which dainty refreshments were served. Delsie received many pretty gifts. Those who were present were: Lorita Rafferty, Adelaide Beadle, Gladys Raiche, Evelyn Beadle, Rozella Leonard, Mirrie Hicks, Geraldine Shuler, Ruth McKee, Marjorie Rafferty, Agnes McKee, Kathryn Rafferty, Julia Shuler, Raymond Gandy and Kenneth Higgins. After a very jolly time they all departed for home, wishing Delsie's birthdays would be every Saturday.

Special Federation Meeting.

The regular meeting of the executive committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs would fall naturally on Thursday morning of this week, but owing to special reasons to be hereafter stated, the meeting will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. building, and all members of the Federation as well as members of the executive committee are urged to be present. The paramount reason for the calling together of the entire Federation at this time is that at this meeting the Federation House will have to be decided as well as the new plans for the Federation work. While the executive committee has the power to decide such questions it is deemed desirable that the members of the Federation should know of and concur in any action to be taken on such important matters, and for this reason every woman who is a member of the Federation is urged to be present.

Lowell Club Banquet.

The Lowell Club held their annual banquet at Willwyck Inn on Saturday, and faith, a fine time were they havin'. The banquet was in charge of the program committee. Mrs. Fessenden, chairman; Mrs. Jingham, Mrs. Dero and Mrs. Hale. The tables were in the form of a Greek cross and in the center was a large shamrock pie, containing four handsome bouquets of white snapdragons and mignonette formed the floral decoration. While green flags, straws bon bons, etc., added to the attractive appearance of the table. Bright green ribbons ran from the place cards to the shamrock, and each favor was accompanied with an appropriate rhyme. A most delicious menu was served, and later, after a gay contrasting note.

responded to. Miss Baker, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Schoonmaker, responding to the toast, "When We Dig Down Deep," spoke of "Mrs. Bruyn to 'Luck in Odd Numbers';" Mrs. Edwards to "The Shamrock;" Mrs. Everett to "The Shamrock Stone;" Mrs. Van Buren to "Irish Melodies;" and Mrs. Cole to "Erin Go Bragh." A short address of farewell was made in most fitting words by the retiring president, Miss Baker, and Mrs. Bruyn, the new president, assumed her office with equally fitting remarks. The banquet, one of the happiest and wittiest ever held, was brought to a close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Festival Chorus Rehearsal.

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown in the music festival chorus rehearsal to be held tomorrow, Tuesday evening, at Symphony Hall, in the Crosby building, corner Wall and John streets. Only one rehearsal will be held this week, owing to the fact that this is Holy Week and most of the churches will be holding special services later in the week. However the rehearsing of such music as Mendelssohn's "Elijah" would indeed be fitting for any time. It will be an added privilege this year to be connected with the music festival chorus, for the soloists who will appear at this festival are all artists of note who have sung with the great vocal societies and orchestras of the entire musical world. As for the rare skill and musical ability of the conductor, Norman Cooke-Jephcott, those Kingstonians who were so fortunate as to attend the special musical service at the Church of the Messiah in Rhinebeck on Sunday afternoon, realized as never before that Kingston was indeed favored in that it could have such a conductor and voice trainer. All of the out of town choruses are very enthusiastic this season, and all persons who for any reason will be unable to attend the rehearsal tomorrow evening are asked to send in their names in order that it may be known how many more voices than the 200 already on hand and sent out will be needed. The rehearsal will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

The Coterie.

Mrs. Brown was the hostess of The Coterie on Saturday afternoon. "Women in the Home" was the chief topic under which Mrs. Thompson had the first paper for the afternoon. The subject being "Marriage a Standardized Profession." Mrs. Thompson told of those states having health laws, calling for physical examination and health certificates before marriage. She also spoke at some length of the laws of eugenics, and read the opinions of several notable personages on this matter. Mrs. Patchen had the second paper on "Ethics of Domestic Service," in which the servant problem was discussed at some length, together with the part that factories and shops play in this problem. The unpopularity of domestic service was laid in part to the door of the mistresses, and it was shown that better conditions could be obtained if the women in the home would take an interest, not only in instructing girls in the necessary phases of home keeping, but also if they would take more of a personal interest in the girls who come into their homes. Mrs. Terry had the third paper on "The New Women of Japan." As a background to the subject, Mrs. Terry told of the old regime in Japan, as far as women are concerned and then of the slightly improved conditions of the new woman in the land of the Mikado. A college for women offers hopes of a still greater improvement in woman's state in Japan. All of the papers were full of interest and admirably presented. Mrs. Patchen will be the hostess of the next meeting of The Coterie.

Naturally Indignant.

Butcher—"Ow is my daughter gettin' on with 'er music, professor?" Professor—"Well, I'm only teaching her the scales at present." Butcher (indignantly)—"Teachin' er the scales? I don't want er to know nothin' about the scales. She ain't goin' to serve in the shop, I mean 'er to be a lady. Teach 'er the pianer, or I'll take 'er away from yer."—London Tit-Bits.

GIRLS' VARIETY SHOW.

High School Girls as Good at Acting as at Basketball.

The lassies of the high school have proven that they can clean up just about any basketball team in these environs and Saturday night they demonstrated their skill before the footlights when they staged their "Variety Show" before a good sized audience. The entire program was in the hands of girls alone and everything went smoothly in spite of the few days which were devoted to practice for the occasion. Several original stunts were included in the evening's fun.

When the curtains were pulled apart, a darkey scene with a colored family performing their duties was shown. As the southern pickaninnies performed their chores they relieved the monotony of work by jokes about school activities and personalities, most of which hit their mark. There were about sixty in all and the dainties and others of school life came in for a good share of the fun.

When the jokes were exhausted the group of darkeys left their work and entered into a regular southern plantation dance. Helen Wood, with all the grace of a colored Mammy, danced a jig while the others joined in by clapping their hands and swaying their bodies in true southern fashion to the tuneful music of the orchestra.

Between the acts Coonville's orchestra of ten picked musicians, all girls, rendered several popular selections. The musicians manipulated mandolins, violins, and piano and acquitted themselves creditably. May Day in the school was next shown and made a hit. All the dignity of the occasion accompanied the arrival of the queen upon the throne, a box to which several smaller boxes led, as steps. Then the athletes of the school, represented by the girls themselves, were brought before the queen and prizes for track work awarded.

Miss Wood was Her Royal Majesty in cheese cloth and Miss Ruth Humphrey acted the part of prime minister in fine style. Miss Ida Lazarus, blackened up in cotton raiment, sang "Honey Chile" which was received with applause.

The next scene was the high school gymnasium on the night of a dance. At eight p. m. the girls filed in and a few minutes later the youths. The orchestra started playing and after several minutes' hesitation one lad summoned courage enough to ask a maiden to dance with him. The rest were not slow to follow and several dances were gone through.

Then the dancers departed to Treck's soda establishments across the way after they had been turned out at 11 o'clock from the gymnasium. This last exhibition was a sort of slam at the male pupils of the school and was effective in provoking smiles from the audience.

Everybody was so infatuated with the entertainment that one of the girls had to announce that there was nothing to follow but dancing in the gymnasium and quite a number took part in this enjoyment.

High School Schedules Games.

Four games have been scheduled by Manager John Dwyer of the high school basketball team. A contest for May 6 will be the opening one of the season, it is expected, but as yet no school has been secured to play on that date. A game with Catskill has been arranged for May 13 and another one will be played later in the season with this team. Two fast games are those which have been booked with Troy high school. For three years this fast aggregation has been champion of the Princeton League of the capital district, winning the cup offered by the college of that name each year.

Misquoted.

"I am never going to talk to a newspaper reporter again," declares Mrs. Leonidas W. Van Quentin. "Last week the reporter quoted me as saying 'I have nothing to say except that the rumor is false.' What I really said was, 'It's all a frameup, but I ain't going to spill anything to reporters this early in the game.'"—Kansas City Star.

By La Racquette.

One's wardrobe is incomplete unless among other garments there is an all net dance frock. One particularly simple but smart frock is shown in flesh colored silk net. The ribbon trimmed net over skirt falls in billowy folds over a lining of flesh colored satin. The bodice is extremely simple, featuring a deep basque of net over satin and shoulder pieces of net. A dainty corsage of field flowers is placed at the waistline, affording a gay contrasting note.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 17, 1916.

Better naval preparedness rather than the "wild extravagance" of a $400,000,000 expenditure on military preparedness within the next five years, as planned by the Wilson administration, is being urged in the United States Senate by Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Inasmuch as Senator Stone is the President's champion in the Senate, his characterization of the Wilson plan as "wild extravagance" has created a sensation. Speaking on the same day of the Carranza Government's note to the State Department on the Mexican situation, he admitted our relations with Mexico were not satisfactory, but within a brief time he believed we would get far more men than we would need for any emergency that might arise in that direction, while the war this country needed to ward against was the commercial war on the seas that would follow European peace, by which the victor might rebuild her shattered fortunes by taking control of the world's commerce. The necessity of proper national defense and preparedness has been so long overlooked by the Wilson administration that it became necessary for individuals to organize and foster societies and leagues having preparedness for their object. Such organizations do not spring into existence on a large scale unless the people realize that the administration is incapable of grasping conditions or taking adequate steps to meet them.

It may be pertinent, as Henry Ford has been pointing out in his paid peace appeals, that munition manufacturers shine prominently in the councils of the preparedness and defense leagues, but that does not alter the fact that the United States is unprepared to maintain its rights against insult and aggression either on land or at sea, because both branches of the service have been subject too long to departmental egotism, and have, consequently, and Congressional pork barrel politics. Advocates of a greater navy and a greater army respectively put forth their claims as of paramount importance, while commercial supremacy supporters fail to see the necessity of anything except their plans. A combination of all these plans, together with a peace movement, is not inconsistent, but egotists never realize the importance of movements outside the circle in which they happen to be interested. To combine all these movements for the best interests of America is a task which is not incapable of fulfillment, because all progress is the result of compromise, but the Washington administration is showing itself incapable of handling the problem.

Ex-United States Senator William Lorimer, who was unsuccessful in defending his seat in that body and is now on trial in Chicago on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy growing out of the failure of the bank he controlled, lays the root of his troubles in the Senate and bank to the newspapers, which he says fought him because he would not do their bidding. The story of Lorimer's long fight to retain his Senate seat after the corruption by which it had been obtained became apparent, is familiar to newspaper readers. Lorimer's training and environment evidently failed to make him see the possibility of corruption reaping anything except a corrupt reward, and he became so self-centered in the accomplishment of his desires that anyone who failed to bow to the power of his will or money became an antagonist to whom abuse as a last resort always is applied by men of the Lorimer type. Such men absolutely fail to see any public right to demand representation instead of misrepresentation, but are always ready to denounce the people who revolt against dishonesty in public or private life. All they can see is interference with their own plans, and no matter how nefarious such plans may become they claim the right to protect them by virtue of the position. Wealth or influence they have acquired. Publicity, therefore, is their worst enemy, and newspapers which spread the distasteful publicity are their enemies. When their plans fail, it is not their own career, to their mind, which has been their undoing, but only their enemies. The old adage that "No rogue ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law," might well be amended by adding the words "or newspapers."

Although horse meat may be sold in New York city by dealers who do not sell any other kind of meat, no applications for licenses to sell it have been received by the board of health. In its personal habits the horse is one of the cleanest of animals and its meat possesses all the good qualities of other meat except tenderness and delicacy. Even without these qualities, it cannot be much tougher than some cuts of beef and should compare favorably with occasional specimens of what are termed "Long Island duck," which may have come from Long Island, but walked the entire distance. Other countries encourage the use of horse meat as food, often as a matter of necessity and not choice. At the present time the demand for horses is so great that tender, juicy animals could not be spared to add to the food supply except as a costly luxury. Superannuated animals would need careful treatment to put them in edible condition and consumers have been educated to the point where they are opposed to the use of chemicals to place food in an excellent condition.

BAR-TENDER'S FATAL DRINK.

Rhinbeck Man, Despondent, Drank Potassium Cyanide.
With the words, "this will end it all," Harry Schism, a bartender at Decker's Hotel, Rhinbeck, raised a glass filled with cyanide of potassium and a mixture of nicotine, used in spraying trees and drank it Friday night before his wife or family who were near him, could prevent it. He died in agony before a physician could be summoned.

Schism, who was 42 years of age, had been despondent for several weeks. He leaves a wife and five children.

Trouble on Martin's Lane.

This morning Scott Van Demark, 29 years old, was arraigned before Recorder Lang on a charge of assault in the third degree preferred against him by Mrs. Mary J. Goffield of No. 40 Martin's Lane, who claims that Scott assaulted her little boy and beat him up. Scott entered a plea of not guilty and the trial was adjourned until this afternoon to give both sides a chance to secure witnesses. Both parties are colored.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An Up-to-Date and Popular Style.
1571—Girls' Over-Blouse Dress With Gumples, having Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

Wool mixture was used in this instance, in a pretty shade of red, finished with black braid. The gumples are of cream colored crepe. This style is easy to develop and is suitable for gingham, chambray, galatea, seersucker, serge, voile, poplin, repp, corduroy, velvet. The gumples may be linen, madras, silk crepe or batiste. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12 years. It requires 2 yards of 27 inch material for the gumples or underwaist, and 4 yards for the dress for a 10 years size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1916 large Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest Embroidery Designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

A Ten Inning Contest.

The Mystic baseball team of this city journeyed to Rhinecliff Sunday and met defeat at the hands of the ball tossers of that hamlet in a ten inning contest by the score of 4 to 8. "Ginny" Doyle, who served the "leasers" to the opposing batters, pitched a steady game, and was held up in wonderful style by John McManis. But timely hits on the part of the Rhinecliff team won the game. The Mystics are hopeful of a successful season, and figure this defeat will aid them materially in patching up the minor defects of the team.

CAUSE OF OAT SMUT TREATMENT FAILURE

Neglect to First Remove Foul Seed and Smutted Kernels Before Applying Treatment Causes Partial Failure.

Farm bureau managers and members of the staff of the state college of agriculture are receiving reports that last year there were cases where there was as much as 5 per cent of smutted oats in fields sown with treated seed. They say, however, that the treatment which is recommended in this year's anti-smut campaign is thoroughly effective.

The causes of failure may be due either to unclean seed or to carelessness in treatment. This carelessness will permit of contamination of seed after it is treated.

Precautions to be Taken.

Those who have studied the matter say that the seed should be clean before the treatment is made as this process will remove foul seed and trash beside many light oats and smutted kernels. These smutted kernels when present in the treated grain may contaminate it, because the treatment does not always destroy all the spores in the hard mass. Where large numbers of these smutted kernels are present, other seed should be secured for sowing or such grain may be immersed loosely in a tub of diluted formaldehyde solution. The smutted kernels will rise to the surface and can be skimmed off.

Another cause for failure is due to carelessness in making the treatment. For example, untreated seed about the margin of the pile may be swept in with the other and allowed to contaminate it. The treated grain may become contaminated by letting the smut spores come in contact with it. The experts say that this may come from smut spores floating about in the air of the barn and settling upon the grain spread out to dry. Smutted oat straw thrown out for bedding gives rise to millions of spores. Or if the treated seed is placed in contaminated sacks, bins or drills, it may again become inoculated with the smut. It is therefore advisable to treat the grain sacks by soaking them in the formaldehyde solution for a few moments, and the bin and drill can be sprayed with the solution. It is said, however, that little contamination will come from a drill that is cleaned of other seed.

Those who are back of the anti-smut campaign say that although it may take some time to read about these precautions it really takes very little time to observe them, and that the observance of these small things often times determines failure or success. Sometimes, also, the formaldehyde as purchased is below the standard of 40 per cent strength, and in this case failure is likely to follow.

Treatment.

The treatment is simple. The clean seed is sprinkled with a solution of formaldehyde using one pint of the standard 40 per cent solution to 40 gallons of water, this amount being sufficient for 50 bushels. The grain, after being shoveled into a pile, is covered with blankets for four hours or more, when it can be spread out to dry. Ordinarily, the treatment should be made two or three days before sowing, as there is less trouble and less danger of injury. In this case it is not necessary to dry the grain, and the treated seed comes up quickly. However, if it becomes necessary to treat the seed some time in advance of sowing, great care should be taken to dry it thoroughly so that no heating or other injurious change takes place.

Manager Hook, of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, has been very active in this matter and those who followed his instructions last year met with great success.

WITTENBERG.

Wittenberg, April 17.—Lucas Countryman has gone to Maybrook, N. Y., where he has employment.

Edward S. Irish had the misfortune to injure his foot quite badly the past week. We all hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Emma Hermance spent the past two weeks with her sister, Mrs. L. V. Short, who has been ill. April has turned sour again. It looks as if she was in a weather "trust" with March.

Miss Waleah G. Riserley attended the Sunday School Association at Woodstock on Monday last.

Accident on Monday last. The fisherman, who went up the "line" recently, there must be something doing. Never mind boys. As long as the fish bite on the right end of the line.

Mrs. Lucas Countryman was in Kingston on Wednesday.

Delverne, the five year old son of Emerson Lane, met with a serious accident on Tuesday last. While he was on a lumber wagon he fell off and the wagon ran over him, thus injuring the little fellow quite badly. Dr. M. B. Downer was at once summoned and dressed the wounds.

Easter is fast approaching. Watch out neighbors, and save your eggs. We are all glad to see the smiling faces of Mr. and Mrs. Madison H. Shultis, who have returned home after spending the past two months in Brevard, North Carolina, and other southern points.

Mrs. Frank L. Johnson and daughter, Marian, of Brooklyn are spending their Easter vacation with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Happp.

Frank L. Johnson of Brooklyn spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Happp.

Jersey are spending some time with Mrs. Anna Eltinge.

England Had First Club. The first club (in the sense we now use the term) was launched in England 244 years ago. It was the London Civil club. The club was founded in this way: A group of London men, who were fond of a game of cards, nearly every evening. They banded together and moved from the tavern to a house of their own, which they called a clubhouse. The first important club in America, the Wister of Philadelphia, was founded in 1833. The first distinctive club for women in America was Sorosis, founded in New York in 1868.

CARING FOR CHILDREN.

Work Recently Done by the County Agent Reported.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Branch of the State Charities Aid was held at the office of the society in the county building, corner Crown and John streets. The chief matter of concern at the meeting, following the routine business, was the report of the county agent, Miss Gertrude Bruyn. Eight children in two families, comprising eight children were reported as not in need. In the cases of six families, their need was met without the commitment of the thirty-four children. Thirty-four children were advised and directed as to the one hundred and nineteen children they represented. During the month, three visits had been made to children in free homes; 19 to children in boarding homes; 18 to children in institutions where children are boarded, and one hundred and ninety-six visits and interviews with friends and relatives of children were made. Sixty interviews were had with officials in regard to children, while there were twelve other visits and interviews. The total of visits and interviews was three hundred and eight. One hundred and eighty-three letters were written.

In a family living in Milton, where there were six children, the mother was found to be morally unfit to care for them, and the father is physically unable to do so. One of the children has been placed in the Industrial Home by the county agent, and the other five are in boarding homes. In another family where there are five children, one a colored child, the parents refuse to give up the children although they are in no sense fit guardians. So serious is the case, that court proceedings necessary to the proper care of the children are being arranged. In still another family at Ashokan, where the mother is feeble-minded and the father a heavy drinker, there are five unprotected uncared for children. Here, too, arrangements are being made to take the children away, either through the courts, or by placing them with relatives. All present agreed that the work being done by the county agent was productive of excellent results. Dr. Alice Divine of Ellenville was present and told of a special case.

Miss Mary Clark accompanied by Miss Winifred Albright of Binghamton are on a trip to Bermuda.

Miss Florence Jolic is spending the Easter vacation with relatives at Montela.

Selling For the Retailer

Mr. Manufacturer, which is the best way—to load up the dealer and let him worry out; or to keep the goods moving from his shelves?

There is less selling cost in constant repeat orders, is there not?

A satisfied dealer doesn't worry you much, does he?

The easy way to help your dealer and to cut out the middle man is through newspaper advertising.

VILLA'S DEATH NOT CONFIRMED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 16.—Despite urgent telegrams sent to representatives of the state department and the army the administration today was without confirmation of the reported death of Francisco Villa. The only information reaching here in addition to the press despatches early today was the Mexican reports transmitted by General Funston and El Paso agents of the state department. Consul Letcher at Chihuahua has been ordered to view the body said to be enroute to that city and orders have been issued that the identification for the United States government must be absolute and authentic in every way. In this connection General Scott, chief of the general staff, and the one American soldier who knows Villa best, said today that this identification can be made no matter how badly the body is mutilated.

"Villa has so many well-known physical characteristics that it would be impossible to substitute another body for his," said the general. "If it is Villa that is dead it will be easy to determine it."

Officials said that if Villa is dead the American expedition will be recalled immediately. If he is not the pursuit will be continued while the state department takes up with Carranza the questions raised by him of limiting the character of the punitive expedition and the fixing of a time limit for the recall of the troops.

Although the state department authorized the statement that American troops will be withdrawn from Mexico immediately if Pancho Villa is dead, the whole situation hinges on the little word "if."

For more than a week now the Carranzistas have been persistent in circulating accounts of their prowess, all calculated, in the opinion of many officials, especially those at the war department, to back up the request for the withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico, made in General Carranza's name a few days ago.

In the view of many officials who have been checking up these Carranza reports with subsequent developments, the report of Villa's death is but a natural sequel to the advice which lately have been coming out of Mexico.

One official at the war department pointed out that the original Carranza account of the attempted massacre of the American forces at Parral was completely at variance with the accounts later received from other sources. Carranza in reporting the battle at Parral, laid the blame altogether on the American forces for entering the town and in the same breath urged Senor Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate here, to use every argument to persuade the American government to withdraw the troops. Then came subsequent reports that the American merely went into Parral unarmored to purchase supplies and that they went in even with the approval of the Carranza commander there only to be turned upon.

"The motive for all of these stories is evident," declared this official. "If Carranza can hoodwink the American government into the belief that Villa is dead he has won his point. But it seems to me that the state department has gone as far as it is warranted in going at present if it has consented to treat with Carranza as to time and limits of the American expedition. If Villa is not dead, and there is no real evidence yet that he is, in my opinion the American government could very properly propose that the American expedition must continue until the bandit is run down. If Carranza really desires to cooperate with the American forces, he can demonstrate it by more tangible aid than he has yet extended. The American forces should remain until either the American troops or the Carranza forces have captured Villa."

In the face of conflicting reports about Villa's death, the war department was especially anxious to hear an official version of a story from San Antonio, Texas, that Major Howze, commanding a picked squadron of the 11th Cavalry declared positively that Villa still is alive. According to unofficial accounts, Major Howze reports that Villa is in the mountains southwest of La Boria or Santa Boria, some 50 miles northwest of Parral.

Cantata Rendered.

A very enjoyable musical service was held at St. James's M. E. Church Sunday evening. The cantata, "The Story of Calvary," by Schaefer, was rendered by the choir. The work showed an artistic finish as the attacks were decided and the work was finely shaded throughout. The choir deserves great credit for their rendition as does Mr. Vogt, who conducted. Miss Burhans did her usual good work in accompanying.

After the cantata Dr. Baragwanath delivered a very forceful sermon, the subject taken from the theme of the cantata. He described the story of the cross in a most vivid manner and altogether the service was very impressive.

Next Sunday evening the choir will give another cantata, "The Glory of the Resurrection," by Spross. This work is a fair example of the compositions written by Mr. Spross. Edith Hallet Frank, soprano, will assist at this service and those who intend hearing the work may anticipate a treat, as she surely possesses a rare voice and a fine personality. She sang the soprano solos when "The Christ Child" was given Christmas. Arthur Carr will assist as bass soloist and Margaret Angle and Mildred Harrison as contralto soloists. It is expected this will be a very enjoyable evening also.

Too Inquisitive.

A young man who has theatrical aspirations loves to boast of his connections with the stage business.

In company with some traveling performers in the lounge of a hotel not long since the young man carelessly observed:

"Oh, yes; I took a show out once."

But the wind was knocked out of him when one of the actors asked him:

"Who brought it back?"—Pittsburgh Telegraph.

YEAR AMONG THE FIGHTERS

Through the co-operation of the National Security League of this city and the Federation of Women's Clubs, the people of Kingston will be privileged to hear an account of the early days of this present European war, from a woman who actually spent a year among the fighters. La Baronne Huard, formerly Miss Frances Wilson, daughter of Francis Wilson, the famous actor. La Baronne Huard is the wife of a French nobleman, serving his country at the front, and in her address which is as vivid and forceful as only an American woman of culture and discernment, living under such circumstances could deliver. This lecture, illustrated, is called "My Year Among the Fighters." Left by the mobilization of the army, alone at her chateau at Villiers, near Soissons, she tells of the refugees, the alarm, and the escape from the invaders; then of the battle of the Marne and later of the return across the still smoking battle fields. Many other incidents of the keenest interest will be told, and lantern slides shown from the very places visited by Mme. Huard. The slides were taken through the lecturer mistaking her camera for her jewel box in the excitement of flight. This lecture, which will be free to the entire public, will be given at the high school auditorium on Thursday of this week at 8 o'clock. On some one expressing the regret that it should come on the Thursday evening in Holy Week, one woman, whose vital interest in preparedness has been thoroughly aroused, said that did we but realize the facts as we should we would all feel that preparedness was fast becoming a holy topic.

Beautiful Palm Sunday Service.

The fine little memorial Church of the Messiah at Rhinebeck was crowded to its limit on Palm Sunday afternoon, when in connection with the customary evensong, Coupled's impressive "Gallia" was sung. There were many Kingstonians present, and to many of them it was the first time that they had been privileged to hear the boys of the Choir School, of which Norman Coke-Jephcott is the musical master, sing. The twelve lads who sang all have exceptionally beautiful voices and the splendid training that they had received was shown in the marvelously clear sweet tonal effect, the perfect enunciation and truly dramatic effect with which the boys, assisted by the men of the choir, sang. And nothing more churchly could be imagined that the service sung a cappella. After a most impressive and inspiring sermon, preached by the rector, the Rev. Francis K. Little, Mr. Coke-Jephcott, organist, gave a short organ recital consisting of a "Festival Toccata" by Fletcher and Handel's churchly "Largo," played by special request.

England's Income Tax.

In the nature of a war tax the income tax was first imposed in England by Pitt in 1799. It was a temporary imposition and was graduated on all incomes from $200 to $1,000 a year, with a tax of 10 per cent on all incomes over $1,000. Addington reimposed the tax when the war with France broke out in 1803, and the rate was fixed at 5 per cent on incomes of $750 a year and over. On his return to power in 1803 Pitt continued the tax, and it was gradually increased until 1815, when it was abrogated. Peel revived it, however, for purely fiscal reasons in 1842, and, although his original intention was to impose it only for three years, it has continued ever since.

A Swat In Time Saves Ninety-nine— And Then Some More!

Do your spring fly swatting early! One swat at that time of the year will prevent a line of descendants from a mother fly that would reach around the globe at the equator 5,000 times by the middle of August. This was the statement vouchered for by F. M. Washburn, state entomologist of Minnesota.

Just an ordinary, healthy female housefly, Mr. Washburn explained, produces at a minimum 120 eggs at a sitting. He says it is safe to suppose that at least half of these will hatch female flies. Four months uninterrupted breeding would result in the startling fly population of 214,537,844,320,000,000,000,000, all of whom might claim the same great-grandmother.

So as a precaution don't wait until your house and its surroundings are infested, but start right away in swatting the fly.

After a visit to an ordinary well littered alley an industrious fly has collected from 550 to 6,000,000 germs on its hairy legs and wings, according to the reports of the United States department of agriculture.

The Cheering Wasn't Renewed.

Professor R. W. Lee of McGill university law school was once addressing the Ontario Bar association, and the Osgoode hall students were present. Of course Dean Lee's address had to be punctuated by the usual students' outbursts. Dean Lee touched on ancient and modern law and the methods of lawyers and judges. Taking up one line of legal problems, he said: "Now, if I asked a lawyer of such and such an age this question he would answer so and so or something to that effect. But, coming down to the present day, if I were to ask the same question of an Osgoode hall student—" Instantly the noise began. The students yelled and cheered and applauded and stamped on the floor and pounded their desks. It was some noise, but at last it subsided. Dean Lee, unruffled, went on to say, "If I were to ask an Osgoode hall student he would answer, 'I don't know.'—Silence."

Song of the Marines.

The United States marine corps is unique in all branches of the American services in having a distinctive marching song that is as swifly and catchy as many of the foreign marching songs. True, West Point has its Benary Havens song, and the Seventh cavalry marches to the inspiring tune of Garry Owen, but the "Halls of Montezuma" is sung by all who wear the marine's uniform. One verse of the song, a favorite one, runs:

Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun.
We have fought in every clime and place
Where we could take a gun.
In the snow of far-off northern lands
And in sunny tropic zones
You will find us always on the job,
The United States Marines.

EDWARD HUXLEY

U. S. CITIZEN ON SUSSEX SAYS HE SAW NO TORPEDO.

New York, April 17.—Edward Huxley, president of the United States Rubber Export Company, of this city, who has just arrived on the St. Paul from England, after having been rescued from the Sussex, says that he saw no torpedo before or after the explosion on the Sussex. Mr. Huxley said:

"I was on deck, port side aft, when the explosion occurred starboard forward. I saw no torpedo and talked with no passenger who had seen one. All the talk of a torpedo I heard anything of was the statement from a warrant officer on the Sussex to the effect that the captain had been saying to the commander of the rescue ship that he had seen the wake of a torpedo."

Mr. Huxley declared that from the hour the vessel left the British shore until the explosion occurred, no vessel was sighted. For nine hours afterwards no vessel was seen and the first to appear was the British rescuing destroyer.

As soon as he landed from the Sussex, Mr. Huxley, in behalf of the American passengers, sent a 1,500-word cablegram to President Wilson protesting against further futile notes to Germany.

His Own Fault.

Said the waiter to a noisy card party in a hotel bedroom: "I've been sent to ask you to make less noise, gentlemen. The gentleman in the next room says he can't read."

"Tell him," was the reply of the host, "that he ought to be ashamed of himself. Why, I could read when I was five years old."—Pittsburgh Telegraph.

How Physiologists Regard Coffee

In a recent article, Dr. W. A. Evans, editor of the "How to Keep Well" column of the Chicago Tribune, says:

"In order that no misunderstanding may arise, I should say that physiologists regard Coffee, Tea, Tobacco and Whiskey as drugs in the same sense as Opium and Cocaine are. From coffee at one end of the line to cocaine at the other, no pot has the right to call the kettle black."

The average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine, a habit-forming drug—not enough in one cup to seriously harm. But, when used regularly, it is for many the cause of the sleeplessness, nervousness, heart trouble, mental and physical fatigue, and a host of other complaints.

on the other hand, is a pure food-drink made of roasted wheat and a little molasses. It tastes much like coffee, but contains no caffeine nor other injurious drug.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal, which must be boiled; 15c and 25c packages; and Instant Postum, a soluble form that produces the beverage instantly—a level teaspoonful to a cup of hot water; 30c and 50c tins. Both forms are equally delicious, and the cost is about the same—one-half cent per cup.

Even a ten-day trial will place the average person far enough away from coffee troubles to prove

MASONS VISIT
HOME AT UTICA

About 400 Masons journeyed to the Masonic Home at Utica Sunday on the pilgrimage conducted by the Fifteenth Masonic District. A special train conveyed the brothers from Kingston, stopping at Saugerties, Catskill, Coxsack and Ravena, leaving Kingston at 9:10 and arriving at the home at 1:30. The train stopped directly in front of the home and the large delegation was escorted up the long walk leading to the main building and into the beautiful chapel. Miss Wiley, daughter of the superintendent, then took her place at the organ and the children entered the chapel in their beautiful procession and singing the anthem "The Son of God Goes Forth to War." The program is given below. The orchestra was composed of 32 boys and girls and the brass band of an equal number and when they all united in the "Star Spangled Banner," the enthusiasm was overwhelming. As the children marched out singing "God be With You Till We Meet Again," there was hardly a dry eye and the impression made by the children will linger for many years in the memory of the great body of men who attended.

A purse containing $140 was collected on the train and presented to the children. Superintendent Wiley announced that it would be placed to the credit of one of the little orphan boys who only a few days before had lost his hand by being run over with an automobile. The brothers were shown all through the building and over the farm, some escorted by the old men and others being led by the children. Opportunity was then given them to go into the city of Utica, where supper was had, the special train leaving the union station at 7 o'clock and arriving at Kingston at half past ten. Many of the brothers are already talking about a new pilgrimage and are looking forward to taking the ladies so that all may see this institution, which is a monument to Masonic charity.

The program of exercises in the chapel was as follows:
Processional—"The Son of God Goes Forth to War."
Invocation.
Organ Voluntary—Largo.
Jerusalem, My Happy Home.
Orchestra Selections—Evening Star.

FREEMAN TEAM WON.

Defeated High School 13 to 9 on Saturday Afternoon.

The Freeman baseball team won out from the High School youths Saturday afternoon at the athletic field in a practice game by the score of 13 to 9. In view of the fact that the printers had several stars in their ranks the defeat for the high school was not a surprise. It only showed the weakness of their team. The high school infield worked well but the outfield with the exception of Kierman were woefully weak with the exception of Kierman who attended the outer gardens all right. McAuliffe, the young twirler for the students, hurled a good game in this, his first encounter, and showed good stuff in spite of his lack of beef. He weakened in the seventh when The Freeman nine smashed out some speedy ones and captured the laurels.

The respective lineups follow:
High School—Joyce, 2b.; Silverman, ss.; Relyea, 1b.; Terwilliger, c.; Johnson, 3b.; Kierman, cf.; Howard, lf.; Mones, cf.; H. McAuliffe, p.

GILDERSLEEVE TO MANAGE AUDITORIUM

Beginning May first, the management of the Y. M. C. A. auditorium for moving picture performances will be taken over by George C. Gildersleeve, manager of the Kingston Opera House and the Star theater, and high class pictures will be shown there.

The films to be displayed at Association Hall will be the Paramount, V-L-S-E and Metro, which for some time have been the attractions at the Kingston opera house and the Star. Moving pictures at Association Hall were installed some time ago by the Association directors and have been popular. The management of Mr. Gildersleeve will extend only to moving pictures, and arrangements for the use of the hall for other entertainments will continue to be made with the Y. M. C. A. directors as formerly.

O. S. Hathaway, who is lessee of the Kingston opera house and the Star theater, will have general management of the moving picture at Association Hall. Mr. Gildersleeve being resident manager. Mr. Hathaway in addition to the Kingston theaters is lessee and general manager of the theaters at Binghamton, Amsterdam, Oneonta and Middletown. Under Mr. Gildersleeve's capable management, the pictures at Association Hall will become even more popular than they have been in the past.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

M. F. Wyant, the coffee and tea merchant, has purchased a Ford business car through the agency of James Millard & Son.

Herbert L. Schultz of St. Remy has purchased a Reo six cylinder, seven passenger touring car of O. M. Kennedy, proprietor of the Central Garage.

Reckless Ulster county automobilists can take a lesson from an accident which occurred on the road between Troy and Schenectady on Sunday whereby one woman was killed and three others were injured. The car was driven by Mrs. George Carl of Troy and her husband and two friends. The machine was being driven swiftly when the left front wheel struck a deep rut which loosened the tire and rim. The machine lurched toward a ditch and rolled over. Mrs. Carl was crushed by the steering wheel, which broke several ribs, one of which punctured her right lung. One of the guests was injured internally and the two members of the party who occupied the rear seat were also injured, although they were somewhat protected by the limousine top.

According to a statement made public today by the secretary of state, all previous automobile registration records have been surpassed this year. Cars are being licensed at the rate of more than 2,000 a day. The receipts thus far for the registration of motor vehicles and chauffeurs, exclusive of motor cycles, amount to $1,477,360, an increase of $262,000 over the same period a year ago. In all, 171,977 cars have been registered in this state this year as compared with 142,576 last year. It is predicted that over 300,000 motor cars will be registered in this state this year, as every county is showing an increase in the number of motor vehicles registered. Up to April, 162,922 motor cycles had been registered under the new law, which compels the registration of these machines.

Union Easter Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Reformed Church will unite with the society at the Fair Street Church in holding an Easter service at the latter church on next Sunday morning at 9:15 at the Fair Street Church, therefore, there will not be any meeting next Sunday afternoon of the C. E. Society of the First Reformed Church.

Hollow Land.

The Dutch people occupy a country which contains 12,000 square miles. More than one-tenth of the size of Great Britain and Ireland, the population is but a few over 400,000. Holland is not only flat, it is hollow, hence its name, "Hollowland." Along the coast the meadows are two or three feet, sometimes more, beneath the water line. By the sea, at high tide, there may be a difference in the level of the soil and of the ocean of quite twenty-five feet or more.—London Globe.

About four hundred Masons of the Fifteenth Masonic District met the pilgrimage to the Masonic Hall at Utica on Sunday in a special train of nine coaches. The Kingston delegation left town at 9:10 o'clock this morning and returned at 10:30 o'clock that evening after a most enjoyable day. At Utica they attended service in the Daniel D. Tompkins memorial chapel when a fine musical program was rendered by about a hundred of the children at the home.

INDOOR CIRCUS NEXT WEEK

Bing and Bang Circus at Y. M. C. A. Next Tuesday and Wednesday—Volley Ball Tonight—Church League Wednesday.

Arrangements have practically been completed for the big Bing and Bang indoor circus at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. Owing to the war in Europe it has been found impossible to secure any freaks as they are all at the front and so there will be no side show this year. The indoor circus at the "Y" is in the nature of an annual affair and always attracts interest from those who like to spend an evening of clean enjoyment.

There will be a number of "wild" animals who will perform, high bar and trapeze performers, acts on the Roman ladders, thrilling bicycle and hippodrome races and a small army of funny clowns.

The ring master this year will be Harry D. Ivory, the secretary of the boys' department of the association. Doors will open at 7:30 o'clock. Don't forget the dates, April 25 and 26.

This evening the married and single men will play a game of volleyball at the association. Each team will be selected by picked men and a fast game is looked forward to.

The first bowling games in the re-organized Church Bowling League will be rolled on Wednesday evening. The bowlers of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church recently won the championship in the league that closed several days ago.

Crescents Won.

In the recent defeat of the Delphi basketball five at Wappingers Falls a good exhibition was put up by the Crescents of this city before a large crowd and Spalt, center for the Kingston team, played a great game, scoring a total of 23 points. The score follows:

COUNT OKUMA

DENIES JAPANESE-BRITISH ALLIANCE IS WEAKENING.

Tokyo, April 17.—The development of the anti-British Alliance Campaign in the Japanese press has at last brought Premier Count Okuma out with an interview in which he asserts that the alliance is as strong as ever and tells the allies they must stick together to crush Germany—their common foe.

"Any allegation that Japan is insincere in her friendship for, or disloyal to, her treaty with Great Britain is utterly untrue," he said. "The spirit of chivalry and loyalty to a friend is strong among the Japanese and this spirit has been manifested in many ways since the outbreak of the war. I have no fear that the leading men of America, or of any other country, will doubt Japan's sincerity or loyalty because of the writings and mouthings of a sensational newspaper any more than we of Japan doubt the friendship or the loyalty of England or America because a few newspapers say unkind things or publish untruths about us."

"We are doing everything we can to assist England in fighting her enemy."

Hot Liners.
(By Frank G. Menke.)

We never hear the home team jeered. When it wins day after day; But you never hear players cheered When they lose by some bum play.

"Jimmy" Johnston, fight impresario of New York, assures all the doubting Thomases that he wasn't kidding when he said he was going to incorporate his fighters—Ted Lewis and Andre Anderson. "I'm going to capitalize both of them and sell stock, paying dividends from their earnings in the ring," he said.

Must have some ball team in Cleveland when they turn $8,000 away from the gate. Too bad to lose all that change in these hard times.

"Jess Willard should have been a weight thrower," says Pat McDonald, the champion shot putter. What's the use. Throwing humans gets the wherewithal much easier.

The Boston teams are in the van with nary a defeat. Is the Hub going to monopolize the buntings?

Reports from Australia have it that Eddie McGough, American mid-dleweight, is engaged to wed a wealthy Sydney girl and will quit the ring immediately afterward.

The Athletics and Dodgers expect to chalk up a victory—soon.

JOE WOOD.

"SMOKEY JOE" WOOD MAY JOIN YANKEES.

New York, April 17.—Joe Woods, the former Boston Red Sox hurler, may join the Yankee staff of pitchers within the next few days. It seems that Manager "Wild Bill" Donovan has promised Joe a job if the latter can prove that his arm is O. K. again.

Wood has been training faithfully for six weeks on Columbia University's field, and declares he is confident that the wing is as good as it was when it helped to win pennants for the Boston Americans.

If Wood's whip is right again and he joins the Yankees, the local club would come close to being the favorite in the 1916 pennant race.

Card of Thanks.

We desire at this time to express to our neighbors and friends, who by their kind acts and words to us in our bereavement expressed their sympathy and also for the many friends who sent floral tokens of remembrance.

MOST USEFUL PITCHER

Interesting Comparisons Made of Famous Twirlers.

Speed of Charley Nichols Was Effective Because Sent Up With Easy Motion—Best Man to Take Over Another's Game.

Jack Doyle has some interesting comparisons to make of famous pitchers, and those fans who used to delight in Charley Nichols' pitching, when his great jump ball was working, will be interested in what the old New Yorker and Baltimore player of "Nick's" time has to say about him. Jack caught the fast pitching of Amos Rusie, batted against "Kid" Nichols and has observed closely the work of Walter Johnson.

"Johnson's fast ball is faster than Rusie's," says Doyle, "yet Amos had a faster and wickeder curve. But in holding Rusie and Johnson up to view as the speediest pitchers, there's one bygone pitcher who is overlooked. I mean Charley Nichols. Though not as fast as Rusie or Johnson, he was good and fast, and his speed was all the more effective because sent up with an easy motion."

"Nichols was the best pitcher I ever saw to take another pitcher's game, and for that reason there never was another pitcher who was more valuable to his team than he was to the Bostonians. By taking over another pitcher's game I mean going in when that other pitcher was in bad, and he could do that effectively even if he had pitched the day before. There haven't been any more useful pitchers than 'Nick.'"

Stuffy McInnis, who has batted above the .300 mark for the last six seasons, is out this year to add his seventh blue ribbon for stalwart hitting. McInnis' copy hitting season after season has not received the attention it should. While Stuffy is unsurpassable as a fielding first sacker, it must not be forgotten that he ranks with the best hitters in America.

The only major league players now in the game who can beat six seasons of .300 per cent batting are Hans Wagner, Napoleon Lajoie, Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Sam Crawford, Joe Jackson and Tris Speaker. As Stuffy won't be twenty-six years old until next September, he has a good chance of outstripping some of the fellows now ahead of him.

BURD, WURM AND BOTTLE.

Manager Will Conroy of the Elmira New York State league team gave the fans a big laugh when he announced that he had signed up a Burd, a Wurm and a Bottle.

Burd is a giant catcher, who played good ball with the Richmond and Jersey City Internationals last year, after a season in the Carolina league. Wurm is a pitcher who starred for the White Autos of Cleveland, and Bottle is a clever semi-professional.

TIGERS SPURN ALL DISCARDS

President Navin Denies Offering Haven of Refuge to Players Not Wanted by Boston.

Detroit will not be made the dumping ground for other American League club discards this season, writes E. A. Batchelor in Detroit Free Press.

President Navin made that plain when he announced that he wasn't going to claim several players upon whom waivers have been asked elsewhere and stated further that he isn't in the market for athletes who aren't fast enough to hold jobs with rival organizations.

The Boston papers recently have had stories to the effect that Ray Collins, the Red Sox southpaw would land a place with the Tigers. When Mr. Navin was asked if he really had offered a haven of refuge to the former collegian, he declared that he wouldn't take Ray as a gift. He had already made the same statement regarding Joe Wood, so the Bostonians will have to look elsewhere for a place to stow their spare pastimers, it seems.

Entirely Disinterested.

Marie—"But my dear, are you sure he is not considering your money in proposing to you?" Edith—"Quite sure! He said only last night he never thought of that; he simply knew I had it and that was all he cared."—Boston Transcript.

LIBERTY Is Real Long Cut Tobacco, Men!

LIBERTY is made from ripe, selected long leaves.

You know this is true—because you find only long, silky shreds of tobacco in LIBERTY.

You do not find loose, hard stems or short cuts in LIBERTY—no short leaves, broken leaf or hard stems are used in making LIBERTY.

That's why LIBERTY is always slow-burning and cool-smoking in a pipe—why it holds together and lasts in a chew—and gives all 'round man-size enjoyment.

Made from Long Leaves

No Short, Broken Leaves in

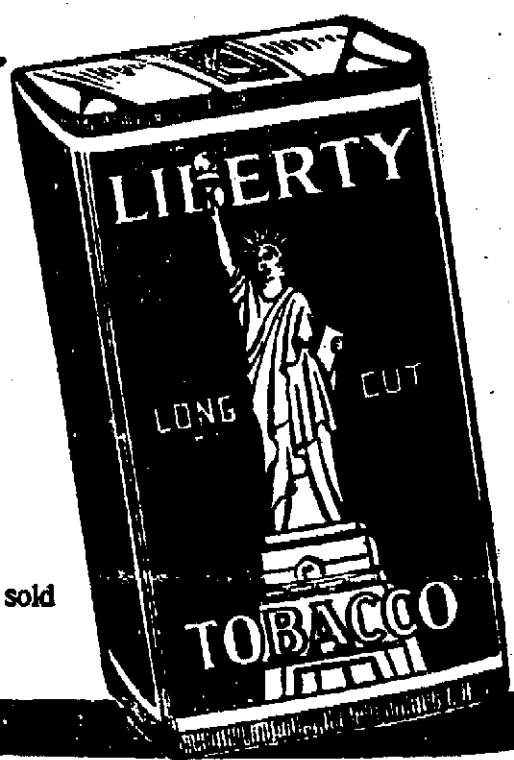

LIBERTY Long Cut Tobacco

Ageing pure Kentucky tobacco up to 5 years puts richness and snap and full body into LIBERTY that give hearty satisfaction, every puff out of a pipe and every smack out of a chew.

No wonder LIBERTY is the big favorite with men who want quality instead of a "big-looking" package. They know man's tobacco when they smoke or chew it. Go after some right away—sold everywhere.
